

Dear Students of International Financial Markets Analysis,

Due to the outbreak of COVID-19 pandemic, our lectures are suspended till the end of April 2020. Nevertheless, the basic conditions to complete the course have not been changed. You still have to write an essay on international pension markets or one national pension market. You still are free to choose a country or a group of countries that You want to describe. If You want to describe the impact of COVID-19 pandemic on chosen pension markets or pension funds in general, feel free to do that. The essay has to be at least 20 000 signs long (including dots and spaces). The deadline is still the end of April 2020. Cross it ... and you are dead ;) The only change is - You don't have to submit hard-copy (paper version). The soft-copy is enough (electronic version).

Besides the essay assignment, Your virtual class is ready!

Our virtual lecture / meeting will be delivered via Teams - Microsoft application.

I know virtual lectures are not like our classroom lessons you attended. We will virtually meet during our lecture hours to discuss and consult any issues connected with International Financial Markets Analysis.

Please use the link to our lecture group at MS Office teams.

Before our virtual lectures please read the reading materials. I upload the materials every week. You can find the reading materials on MS Teams.

In June 2020 I will organise two or three summary lectures, so we can discuss the topic live.

Please join the group and stay in touch.

Take care! Stay safe!

Sebastian
